

ABSTRACT

This research is entitled "Actualization of Nationalism Values in the SIRAM TASIK Community in an Effort to Strengthen Love for the Motherland". The form of HOS struggle. Cokroaminoto produces an ecosystem that is still being cared for by lovers of freedom and peace in this country. However, the values of Islam and Nationalism that have been born by Cokroaminoto must still be preserved, one of which is through various existing media. The spirit of Nationalism and Islam is still being cared for by one of the communities in Tasikmalaya, one of which is the SIRAM TASIK community. This community has various activities related to these two essences. The SIRAM TASIK community is active in the city of Tasikmalaya which is attended by mostly young people and this community is active in social and religious activities. This community has around 8,124 followers recorded on Instagram followers and actively carries out study activities or routine discussions and other social activities.

This study aims to determine the delivery of nationalism and Islamic values by using the theory of cultural studies. Techniques used in data collection using interviews and documentation. As well as in the validity of the data, this study uses observation and triangulation persistence techniques. And in this study also uses data analysis techniques including data reduction, data presentation and drawing conclusi

The result of this study is to find a relationship between Cokroaminoto's nationalism and Islamic values and the SIRAM TASIK community which is the main object in the discussion. The values of Cokroaminoto's nationalism and Islamic spirit are basically an idea brought by him to create a social construction so that this country can avoid things that are colonialism or colonialism. Through movements formed by Cokroaminoto, such as the Sarekat Islam (SI), they became an important vehicle in attracting the masses to awaken the natives from colonial mentality. The importance of awareness of the value of nationalism must be maintained until now. Based on Islamic values, it will certainly create ideal social conditions. The SIRAM TASIK community is one of them being a place to care for these two values. With various programs carried out starting from studies, discussions to direct contact with the community, it becomes a syari'at to continue to take care of the long breath of what has been inherited by the fighters from this nation.
