

PREFACE

This research entitled “Examining University Students’ Strategies in Performing Translation Activity” is submitted as partial fulfillment of the requirements for attaining Sarjana Pendidikan at English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teachers’ Training, Siliwangi University, Tasikmalaya. This research showed that there are numerous findings about students' strategies in translation activities while participating in the Translating and Interpreting course and this research contains five chapters. The first chapter provides background information on translation strategies, technology integration, translation activity in Translating and Interpreting course, a gap, formulation of the problem, operational definition, aim and significance of the research. In the second chapter briefly examines the literature review of Translation Activity, Translation Strategies, Translating and Interpreting Course, and previous studies related to the issue. The third chapter discussed about the study methodology, including research design, setting and participants, data collection technique, data analysis, research steps, and research timeline. In the fourth chapter presented the findings from this research. Finally, fifth chapter presented the conclusion and suggestions of this research.

Hence, I really hope for any feedback or suggestions from readers regarding to my research. Finally, I hope this research can be useful for writers and readers both at this time and for the future.