

PREFACE

In this modern era, technology media has a role to enhance students' speaking skills which are able to make it more enjoyable. Among the media, the Orai application becomes a device that can foster students' speaking competence. This research proposal is a case study that is aimed to investigate students' perceptions of using the Orai application during the public speaking course at a university in Tasikmalaya. The researcher points out several benefits of Public Speaking as well as its relation to the Orai Application and students' perceptions in the background of the study. Moreover, he also delivers the theoretical foundation on Public Speaking and Orai application in the literature review. Finally, he explains the method of this research in the last part.

Hopefully, this thesis contributes positively to the student learning process during public speaking course practices. However, I realize that this thesis is still far from being perfect. Therefore, suggestions and constructive critiques are needed so this thesis can be better.
