

PREFACE

Praise Allah SWT, who bestows his mercy and wisdom on the author so she can complete her thesis, "The Correlation between Students' Reading Motivation and Reading Comprehension." This thesis is submitted to meet the requirements for obtaining a bachelor's degree in Education at the Department of English Education, Faculty of Education and Teacher Training, Siliwangi University, Tasikmalaya.

This thesis is divided into five chapters. The first chapter contains background information and provides the context of the research, along with its gaps, formulation of the problem, and significance of the research. The second chapter reviews the literature on motivation, reading comprehension, and its indicators. The third chapter describes the research design used in this study. The fourth chapter presents the research results, including its findings and discussions. The final chapter contains conclusions based on data findings and suggestions for further research.

With the thesis conducted, the author hopes to provide significant benefits for the author and the world of Education. In writing this thesis, there are still many shortcomings and errors caused by the limitations of the author's ability. Therefore, the author hopes for criticism and suggestions from readers who are constructive to the thesis's perfection.
