

PREFACE

Alhamdulillahirabil'amin

By the name of Allah SWT, the compassionate and the gracious. The highest worship is given to Allah, the infinitely powerful. The writer has completed a thesis named "Students' Perception of Online English Learning Experiences at High School in the Post-Covid-19 Era." The paper is being presented to the English Education Department at the Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teachers' Training at Siliwangi University.

This thesis aims to explain high school students' perceptions regarding the experience of learning English online during the Covid-19 pandemic. Chapter 1 contains an introduction to the research which includes research background, problem formulation, operational definition, research objectives, and research relevance. Chapter 2 discusses a theoretical framework that addresses students' perceptions of online English learning experiences during the pandemic. Chapter 3 covers research methodology, which explains the process and approach used in conducting research. The author presents research findings in chapter 4. Chapter 5 ends by providing conclusions and recommendations for further research.

The author acknowledges that this thesis is imperfect but is optimistic that it will benefit everyone. The writer also anticipates receiving constructive suggestions for improving the content.
