

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, all praise thanks to Allah subhānahu wata'ālā for his blessings and mercy that I finally can accomplish my undergraduate thesis entitled "Exploring the Students' Motivation in Writing Undergraduate Thesis".

I want to express my deep, sincere gratitude to:

1. Head of English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teachers' Training, Siliwangi University, Tasikmalaya,
2. Dede Pertamina, M.Pd., as the first supervisor who has provided invaluable guidance throughout this research,
3. Asri Siti Fatimah, M.Pd., as the second supervisor who has given insightful suggestions and guidance in writing this undergraduate thesis,
4. All lecturers of the English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teachers' Training, Siliwangi University, Tasikmalaya,
5. My family, especially my parents, Ibu and Papa, who continually support and provide me with everything and every time I need, especially during my college times. I sincerely thank you very much,
6. My first Unsil's friend, Elsa Yuhannadza who has been willing to become my friend until recently. Undoubtedly, helping me whenever I need a hand and willing to create those good memories along my college journey,
7. Amelia Rahma Fadillah, my really good friend. Thank you for all the memories we have created, especially our last moment of the college journey. I will always cherish it. I hope we will make another good memory forever and after,
8. My "assignment's teammates" (Risya Rismaya, Amelia Nurbani Amin, Desita Nuriah, Siti Sarah Dania Nabila), thank you for your help and any insights we have shared during those difficulties in making college assignments.
