

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

All gratitude and praise are directed to Allah swt., the Almighty, who has bestowed protection, guidance, love, and mercy. Through His blessings, the researcher has completed this thesis entitled: “The Contributions of Digital Manga in the Extensive Reading Context to EFL Students’ Vocabulary Mastery.” A lot of people have contributed to the researcher’s journey in completing this thesis, and thus, the researcher would like to express sincere gratitude to the following:

1. The honorable Mr. Yusup Supriyono, as the first supervisor as well as the head of the English education department who has given guidance, valuable insight, and constructive advice on this research amidst his busy schedule as the head of the department;
2. The honorable Mrs. Ratu Sarah Pujasari, as the second supervisor who has given the researcher guidance, valuable knowledge, constructive advice, motivation, and support until this research can be completed;
3. The research participants who have voluntarily participated and contributed to this research by providing valuable data;
4. All the lecturers of the English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teachers’ Training, Siliwangi University, who have provided the researcher with valuable knowledge;
5. The researcher’s beloved family, Mamah, Bapa, A Andi, A Egi, who have cared for and educated the researcher with affection, love, and always supported the researcher to pursue her dreams;
6. The members of Shihonbu (Siliwangi Japanese Club), who have established this community so that the researcher can get along and find the phenomenon under study;
7. Yana Toboso Sensei, the author of Kuroshitsuji and Twisted Wonderland, the researcher’s favourite manga author, who has indirectly inspired the researcher to investigate the phenomenon under study. Her beautiful works have accompanied and motivated the researcher until now. The researcher hopes

Sensei has a good rest during her sudden and uncertain period of hiatus so that Sensei can come back to continue the Kuroshitsuji series;

8. Sebastian Michaelis, Ciel Phantomhive, Sasahara Koujirou, Malleus Draconia, Leech brothers, Azul Ashengrotto, Riddle Rosehearts, Ace Trappola, Deuce Spade, Trey Clover, Idia Shourd, and the rest of NRC students, as well as head mage Dire Crowley and the rest of NRC faculty, thank you for accompanying the researcher during her thesis writing arc so that the researcher can survive and finish this thesis;
9. A Ilham, Teh Surga, Teh Tartila, A Fahmi, and classmates who always support, advise, and encourage researcher during the thesis writing process;
10. Pamela de Horan a.k.a Fadila El Qudsiy, the researcher's virtual artist fellow who has accidentally been researcher's senior in college. Thank you for accompanying researcher in living college life;
11. Rin, the researcher's artist fellow and who already live overseas yet still supporting each other sincerely, thank you for sending me post contain of lots art prints;
12. Kuro-friends, Tasya Rachma, Kak Firly, Cyanzan, RiRiRi, END-San, Marianna Venardou, and everyone in this fandom who has interacted with the researcher;
13. Facebook friend list, who have been lovely virtual buddies. Thank you for staying connected with the researcher and sharing good memes and arts;
14. Lastly, the researcher would like to thank the researcher's own self for surviving this long educational journey, although it was not easy and sometimes filled with tears. Thank you for trying your best.

In conclusion, the researcher extends gratitude to all those who have aided and supported the researcher throughout the completion of this thesis. May Allah Subhanahu wa Ta'ala bless the grace and goodwill of all those involved in compiling this thesis with all the goodness of this world and the hereafter.

Tasikmalaya, July 2024

The Researcher