

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to all those who have contributed to this research on the impacts of teaching strategies on students' emotions. This study would not have been possible without the support, guidance, and encouragement of numerous individuals and organisations.

1. First and foremost, I extend my heartfelt appreciation to my research advisors, Mrs Melisa Sri, S.Pd., M.Pd. and Mrs Neni Marlina, S.Pd., M.Pd. for their unwavering support, expertise, and invaluable insights throughout the entire research process. Their mentorship played a crucial role in shaping the direction and quality of this study.
2. I would like to acknowledge the participants of this study, without whom this research would not have been possible. Their willingness to share their experiences and perspectives provided a crucial foundation for understanding the complex relationship between teaching strategies and students' emotions.
3. Furthermore, I want to express my gratitude to my colleagues and peers who provided valuable feedback during the various stages of this research. Their constructive criticism and insightful suggestions greatly contributed to the refinement of the study.
4. Last but not least, I want to thank my family and friends for their unwavering support and understanding during the demanding phases of this research. Their encouragement and belief in my abilities kept me motivated throughout the entire process.

In conclusion, this research is a collaborative effort, and I am sincerely thankful to everyone who contributed in its completion. Your contributions have been instrumental in advancing our understanding of the intricate dynamics between teaching strategies and students' emotions.
