(Qs. Yunus 10:49)

“We can plant a memory garden. Say a solemn prayer, place a poppy in my hair. There’s no morning glory. It was war, it wasn’t fair, and we will never go back to that bloodshed crimson clover. The worst was over. Always remember we’re burned for better. I vowed I would always be yours ’cause we survived the Great War.”

(Taylor Swift)

*“And I fell from the pedestal, right down the rabbit hole.
Long story short, it was a bad time.
Pushed from the precipice, climbed right back up the cliff.
Long story short, I survived.”*

(Taylor Swift)
