

PREFACE

This research thesis entitled “Teachers’ Perceptions Toward the Use of Google Sites as Digital Teaching Media in English Classroom Activities: A Descriptive Case Study” is submitted as partial fulfilment of the requirements for attaining sarjana pendidikan degree at English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teachers’ Training, Siliwangi University, Tasikmalaya. This research thesis contains background information, a literature review, and methodology. The background information provides a context to the relations between digital teaching and Google Sites, a gap, formulation of the problem, operational definitions, aim of the research and significance of the study. The literature review explains teachers’ perceptions, digital teaching, and Google Sites. The researcher used a descriptive case study as the design of this research. Furthermore, semi-structured interview used to collect the data and used thematic analysis to analysed the data.

The researcher realises that there are still many shortcomings in writing this thesis. Therefore, the researcher accepts all suggestions and criticisms from readers to improve this thesis. Lastly, the researcher hopes this research can be useful for both writers and readers.