

PREFACE

All the praise and and gratitude are due to Alloh swt., the highest, the creator of the universe. Because of his grace, I can finish writing my thesis entitled ”Challenges And Opportunities Of EFL Online English Teaching During Teaching Practicum in Indonesian Context”. It is submitted for thesis writing at the English Education Department of the Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teacher’s Training, Siliwangi University.

This thesis writing contains the background information on why the research was conducted, a literature review, research methodology, findings and discussion as well as conclusions and suggestions. The background information provides information about online teaching problems, the gap, formulation of the problem, operational definitions, aim of the research, and uses of the research. The literature review explains a brief about online English teaching, teaching practicum in Indonesia, as well as relevant study of the research. The research design of this study is a descriptive case study. The data collected by semi-structured interviews and analyzed by using Braun and Clarke (2006) thematic analysis. The results of this study are explained in the findings and discussion part. Then in the last part, the researcher makes a conclusion of this study and provides suggestions for further research.

This research can be accomplished because of support from several people. The writer stated her gratitudes in the acknowledgement part. Therefore, on this occasion, the researcher would like to express to them, may Allah swt., reply to their kindness in better ways.

The writer realizes that this thesis is still far from being perfect. Therefore, the writer will greatly receive suggestions and constructive criticism from the readers. Finally, the writer hopes that this thesis can provide things that are useful and add new insight to the readers, and especially for the writer as well.
