This research is entitled Political Dynamics of the Allied Forces Netherlands East Indies (AFNEI) in the Battle of the Sukabumi-Cianjur Convoy in 1945-1946. The purpose of this study is to describe the background of the formation of AFNEI, the implementation of international missions in Indonesia as a mandate of the Postdam Conference and to describe the political dynamics of the events of the Sukabumi-Cianjur convoy battle in 1945-1946.

Achieving the research objectives using the historical method, namely, through heuristics, criticism, and interpretation and historiography stages with data collection techniques obtained through library research and using card system research instruments with data analysis data reduction, data display and drawing conclusions.

The results of this study describe the situation of Sukabumi at the beginning of independence, the joy of the proclamation of Indonesia was felt early by the people of Sukabumi, the diversion of logistics shipments to Bandung in the context of carrying out international missions. The involvement of the People's Security Army was not implemented by AFNEI in logistics delivery according to the agreement between Indonesia and AFNEI. The use of the Sukabumi-Cianjur route to Bandung was traversed with high intensity, the anger of the III TKR Regiment peaked, resulting in the blocking of the Convoy's journey which led to a great battle. AFNEI attempted diplomacy, negotiations, and battles with Indonesia and led to political dynamics.
