

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

All praises and thanks are due to Allah subhānahu wata ‘ālā for his blessing and mercy that I can finally accomplish the thesis entitled “The Unsuccessful Implementation of CLT in an English Class: A Narrative Inquiry by a Pre-Service Teacher.” It is submitted to the English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Science and Teachers’ Training, Siliwangi University, as partial fulfillment of the thesis writing. Many people contributed to helping me complete this research. May Allah SWT reward their kindness in better ways. Therefore, I would like to express heartfelt gratitude to:

1. Head of English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Science and Teachers’ Training, Siliwangi University, Tasikmalaya, Yusup Supriyono, S.Pd., M.Pd.
2. Yuyus Saputra, S.Pd., M.Pd., as the first supervisor who gave invaluable support, insightful feedback, and continuous encouragement during my research.
3. Neni Marlina, S.Pd., M.Pd., as the second supervisor who gave invaluable support, insightful feedback, and continuous encouragement during my research.
4. All the lecturers in the English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teachers’ Training, Siliwangi University, Tasikmalaya, whose guidance and knowledge have shaped my academic journey.
5. The company of Ruang Kelas Indonesia, where I worked part-time during my studies, and the coworkers provided a supportive environment that helped me develop both professionally and personally.
6. My beloved parents and family for the unconditional love, patience, and moral support throughout my academic journey.
7. My lovely best friends, Wajda, Puput, Rida, Amel, and Melati, who have always been here for me, offering emotional support and believing in me throughout student life.

8. All friends of mine who cannot be mentioned one by one, your presence, encouragement, and positive energy have been a great source of strength and motivation for me throughout the process of writing this thesis.
9. Lastly, I would like to thank myself for staying committed, pushing through the challenges, and never giving up on completing the thesis.
