This thesis, entitled “Perceived Usefulness of the Hallo Application in English Language Learning: An EFL Learners’ Perception”, was written to fulfill the requirement of undergraduate thesis writing. This study investigates how EFL learners perceive the usefulness of the Hallo application as a platform to learn and practice the English language.

In establishing this thesis, there were several challenges the researcher had to face. Therefore, the sincerest appreciation is extended to all those who provided support throughout the writing process, especially to the supervisors, Dr. Yusup Supriyono, M.Pd. and Mr. Rahmat, S.Pd., M.Hum., for their valuable guidance, suggestions, support, and motivation.

The researcher is aware that this thesis is still far from perfect. For that reason, constructive criticism and suggestions are sincerely welcomed for the improvement of this work in the future. Hopefully, this paper can be useful for readers in gaining new knowledge and broader insight into the subject matter.
