"Life isn't about winning or losing. It's not a competition. Everyone has their journey and destiny. So, if you feel like you're falling behind, facing too many obstacles, experiencing failures, or seeing others reach their goals faster, it's okay. Don't be sad. Keep going, keep trying, and never give up. Don't let it break your spirit. Keep moving, one small step at a time. It doesn't matter how slow your steps are, as long as you keep moving forward. Slow progress is still progress. Eventually, you'll reach the place you've been fighting so hard to get to." (The Writer)
