

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Praises and gratitude belong to Allah swt. Because of His blessing and mercy, this research thesis can be fulfilled. There are also many people who contributed to helping the researcher to accomplish this research. Therefore, the researcher would like to convey great gratitude to them.

1. Head of English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teachers' Training, Universitas Siliwangi, for his assistance in both academic and administrative matters.
2. My first research supervisor, Junjun M Ramdani, M.Pd., Ph.D., and my second research supervisor, Nita Sari Narulita dewi, S.Pd., M.Pd., for always guiding me in an insightful way to finish this thesis.
3. English education department lectures, for being the greatest mentor who provided a key to unlock beneficial insights.
4. My beloved parents and family, for their blessing, praises, and support given to me and for being a good environment for me to develop myself.
5. Research participants, for their insightful contribution for this research data sources.
6. My best friends, always give me a good energy that motivates me in every condition and accompanying me at every chance.
7. My beloved college partners for being an active and responsive partner in fulfilling this thesis.
8. And finally, thanks to myself for always trying hard to take many opportunities. I hope all of the efforts will produce very good results in the future.

Tasikmalaya, July 2025

Nazla Nadyma