MOTTO

"Just finish what you started, I know its getting tough, you're tired it feel impossible, its getting harder, but finish what you started, don't forget why you even started in the first place, but you must finish what you started, everybody said you wouldn't finish what you started, everybody counted you out, don't dare prove them right, here finish what you started don't give up on yourself, you can do it!"