

PREFACE

This Thesis titled “Using Baamboozle as Cooperative Learning Medium to Increase Students Intrinsic Motivation” is submitted as part of the requirements for completing a thesis in the English Education Department at the Faculty of Educational Science and Teacher Training, Siliwangi University, Tasikmalaya. The Thesis contains several essential sections, including the background, literature review, and methodology. The background section introduces the research context, highlights gaps in the existing literature, and explains the significance and objectives of the study. The literature review explores topics such as intrinsic motivation, cooperative learning, and gamification,

This study adopts a classroom action research design, employing a mixed-methods approach. Data collection combines both qualitative and quantitative methods. Quantitative data is gathered through questionnaires, while qualitative data is collected via observations.

The researcher acknowledges that the success of this study depends on the support and contributions of various individuals involved in the process and expresses sincere gratitude for their assistance in the acknowledgment section. Recognizing that this proposal may have areas for improvement, the researcher invites constructive feedback and suggestions from readers. It is hoped that this research will provide valuable insights to its audience.

Tasikmalaya, October 2025

Den Den Fadillah Harun Ar
212122507