

ABSTRACT

FACTORS AFFECTING THE OPEN UNEMPLOYMENT RATE IN BANTEN PROVINCE IN 2018-2022

By:

Sita Rahmania

NIM. 213401073

Guide I : Nanang Rusliana

Guide II : Dwi Hastuti Lestari Komarlina

The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of gross regional domestic product, minimum wage, human development index, number of industrial companies and population growth rate on the open unemployment rate in Banten province in 2018-2022. The research method used is quantitative method. The data collection technique used in this study is secondary data in the form of panel data, namely a combination of time series and cross section obtained through the official bps website and literature review in the form of journals or scientific papers related to research problems. The results showed that: (1) gross regional domestic product has a negative and significant influence on the open unemployment rate in Banten, (2) minimum wage has a positive and significant influence on the open unemployment rate in Banten, (3) human development index has a negative and insignificant influence on the open unemployment rate in Banten, (4) the number of industrial companies has a negative and significant influence on the open unemployment rate in Banten and (5) population growth rate has a negative and significant influence on the open unemployment rate in Banten.

Keywords: gross regional domestic product, minimum wage, human development index, number of industrial enterprises population growth rate and open unemployment rate.